New Appointment To Hospital Board Asked By Hussar U. F. A.

Want Wilfred Walters Appointed in Place of E. F. Maurer—No Reason Given—Board Recommends Maurer

Appointment of a member to represent Improvement District No. 217 on the board of the Bassano Municipal Hospital District, a position filled by E. F. Maurer for many years, is being delayed by the Department of Health in Edmonton pending further inquiry into a recommendation made by the Hussar U. F. A. local.

The Hussar farmers' organization recommends that Wilfred Walters be appointed to the vacancy. The Bassano Hospital Board recommended E. F. Maurer. Between the two recommendations the Department of Health is in a quandary.

Hospital board members representing Improvement Districts are appointed by the government. In organized areas board members are elected.

In asking for Mr. Walters' appointment the Hussar U. F. A. local had no complaints to make against Mr. Maurer.

Mr. Maurer has represented I. J. No. 217 since the hospital district was formed, and was one of the chief workers in the campaign to organize a municipal hospital.

Appointment of F. Bertschy, representing Improvement District No. 156, and P. Powell, of I. D. No. 186, have been confirmed since the hospital board meeting last Saturday, March 3.

At this meeting the auditor's report for 1933 was read and accepted. Secretary Treasurer H. W. Ford reported the minister of health had approved the estimates for 1934.

The board discussed the advisability of thinning the trees at the hospital. This matter was left to the grounds committee. It is proposed to remove every second poplar tree on the south and west sides of the grounds and replace with ash trees.

GUNNERS NOSED OUT BY COLEMAN IN PLAY-OFFS

Coleman nosed out Gleichen Gunners 2-1 at the Medicine Hat arena last Monday in the third game for southern Alberta honors in the intermediate hockey league. Jakey Bulmer scored Gleichen's only goal. It required three games to decide a winner, and the last two went into overtime. Coleman won the first 2-0, and the Gunners evened the series by winning the second game 2-0. A crowd of local fans went to Medicine Hat to cheer the Bassano players on the Gunners' line-up.

St. Patrick's Dance

Friday March 16

The birth of Ireland's patron saint will be celebrated in Bassano on Friday, March 16, with a St. Patrick's dance and whist drive to be given by the Ladies' Altar Society in the Masonic Community Hall.

Members of the society have been planning this affair for many weeks. Their enthusiasm for the great annual social event has reached a high point and breaks out in the following verse:

Bassano dear, and did you hear
The news that's goin' round?
The Scarlet Serenaders are comin'
back to town;
And we're goin' on Saint Patrick's night
To hold an Irish dance.
With prizes for the lucky ones—
Be sure and try a chance.

A beautiful quilt, the most valuable prize offered in many years, will be raffled. The quilt contains fifteen hundred pieces, all hand sewn. It is now on display in the window of McKee's Stores.

Music will be provided by the Scarlet Serenaders, who pleased the public at the W. L. dance March 2. Juvenile artists from Miss Moorhead's school of dancing will do the Irish jig.

Tickets will be numbered, and a prize given the holder of the lucky one.

House Dress Dance Is Gay Affair

Gaiety, melody, and color featured the house dress dance and whist drive held in the Masonic Community Hall last Friday evening under the auspices of the Bassano Women's Institute.

Imbued with the gay spirit of terpsichore, the crowd of patrons danced until far into the morning to haunting melodies and lifting airs played by the Scarlet Serenaders of Enchant.

The rustle of starched house dresses of many hues mingled with the buzz of conversation from the happy crowd as they danced away an evening free from even one dull moment. The hall was decorated in red and white, with the letters B. W. I., the institute monogram, in large size on the rear wall of the stage. The members of the orchestra contributed their share to the color scheme by wearing scarlet shirts and blue trousers.

Floor manager Harry Beebe kept the dance floor filled by calling another dance almost immediately the last one was finished. The only intermission he allowed was called to give the patrons an opportunity of watching an exhibition of acrobatic dancing by Lorna MacLean, Audrey Cawsey, Mary and Marjorie Goudie, four little girls who delighted the crowd with their performance. Miss Florence Playfair was accompanist for this number.

Mrs. R. S. Wight and A. Cathro won first prizes for whist, and the consolation prizes were awarded to Mrs. I. Hefflebower and Dante Ubertino.

The W. L. wish to thank those who helped make the evening a success.

Board of Public Utilities Commissioners Not Yet Heard From—Increase in Hospital Tax

Approval of 1934 estimates by the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners had not been received when the town council met in regular session last Monday evening, and discussion of tax levies was postponed until the next meeting. Delay in hearing from the board is believed to be due to other matters of pressing importance which are now occupying the board's attention.

The council received notice from the Bassano Municipal Hospital that the hospital tax levy for 1934 is $828.00, an increase of $193.00 over last year. The increase is due to the working out of a plan for a more equitable tax levy as between urban and rural areas.

Town Engineer Frank Mead reported replacement of a water service line during the month of February; one burial; forms made for grave markers at the cemetery; both pumps operated and found in good working order.

Secretary Treasurer Jas. D. Donaldson reported receipts for February amounting to $1228.67.

The Week at Ottawa

(by Dr. F. W. Gershaw, M. P.)

Ottawa, March 3, 1934
Parliament this week went on record as being against bi-metalism at the present time. The minister of finance argued that using silver as a base along with gold would not increase the amount of credit or improve prices. His reason was the fact that there was more gold now than there was in 1928 when there was no scarcity of credit. At the recent London Conference the whole problem had been studied and an agreement had been made that no nation would make use of silver as a basis of issuing new currency. People seemed to prefer the paper money to cart wheels.

There are about as many French speaking members on one side of the house as on the other, and occasionally a real battle is staged. On Monday a motion came up urging the printing of dollar bills in French as well as in English. The discussion went far a-field when one member stated that some professors in a university were atheists and that he would not let his son go there for fear of contamination. Tempers were at razor edge for a time, and charges and insinuations flew thick and fast. However, the issue was not allowed to go to a vote, and this was prevented by the simple process of talking and talking till the hour of adjournment came, and then the motion goes into "Bills and Orders," and never comes up again.

"Shall the Senate survive?" This is a question often asked. This week

Senator Murphy made a speech reviewing the work of that body that was warmly applauded by his assembled brethren. He travelled far back into history to show what had been done in the way of rejecting legislation and figured that more than one hundred million dollars had been saved. Among other things he stated that thirty-seven million dollars had been saved for the country by the senate refusing to vote for a bill that had passed the commons, the object of which was to build a railway to Dawson City in the days of the wild boom in the Klondyke.

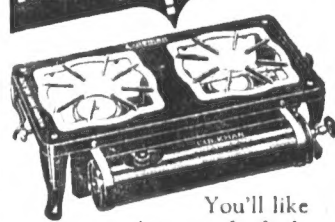

The committee investigating the spread in prices is holding sessions in a small committee room in the building. They had Mr. Tom Moore as a witness this week. It was shown that mass buying by departmental and chain stores had resulted in slashing of wages in the manufacturing business. The large buyers would offer a very low "take it or leave it" price, and in order to get the contract the industries would accept and then cut down all costs with the hope of breaking even. Two cents was what a worker received for polishing a radio; working 10 hours a man received 72c to $1.05 for assembling radio cabinets. He stated that there were many violations of the minimum wage act. Girls sewing in dark, poorly ventilated rooms made only a few cents a day. It was also brought out that goods would not sell unless the price was low and that it was unfair competition for some factories to pay such low wages while their competitors paid a living wage to their employees.

Preparations are being made for the big debate on the Central Bank, and most western members are determined to fight for a Regulating Bank owned and operated by the people which will influence fluctuations in production, trade, prices, and employment so far as may be possible within the scope of monetary action.

THE PICTURES

A Sherlock Holmes mystery picture, "A Study in Scarlet," is coming to the Orpheum Theatre Friday night only this week. Kay Francis stars in "Storm at Daybreak," Saturday night only this week, the story of a girl-wife, a young lover, and a husband who sacrificed his all. "I Cover the Waterfront" is billed for Friday night next week. "Rasputin and the Empress" is coming soon. This is the picture involved in a $2,000,000 lawsuit in the London, England courts. Princess Irina Youssouppoff, of Russia, was awarded $125,000.
